I/We, the undersigned, hereby confirm that the licence for the hardware with the above-mentioned ID can no longer be used. We also recognise that any contravention of this duty of forbearance will incur a penalty of 50,000 Euro and we will pay this penalty. Any additional claim for compensation of VenturisIT GmbH shall not be affected by this. Re-licensing shall be free of charge for customer service. With multiple licences we reserve the right to bill the costs incurred for re-issue.

The personal data mentioned above are used for processing purposes in our systems. If the purpose, for which the data were collected, ceases to apply or after expiration of any legal retention period the personal data will be deleted. We expressly point out your right of information regarding your stored personal data as well your right to require a correction or deletion or limitation of the processing of these data and your right to object to the processing and your right to have the data transferred. Furthermore you may lodge a complaint with a data protection authority. For all questions in relation to the protection of your personal data please contact our data protection officer Boris Koppenhöfer, datenschutz@venturisit.de.
